The Leader Development Programme

The Leadership Development Programme is a three session programme, delivered at a venue of your choice, which enhances leaders' knowledge, understanding, confidence and abilities. Underpinned by evidence-based research, this offers colleagues opportunities to reflect on practical and strategic approaches to assist them to maximise the impact of their leadership.

Adam Lowing is a leadership development consultant. A former headteacher, Adam now works with schools, trusts and local authorities across England.

The programme includes:

- Each session includes a half day group workshop followed by individual coaching.
- Carefully selected content that can be tailored.
- Designed for groups of colleagues.
- Introduction to accessible research and models.
- Expert facilitation.

Participants will benefit from:

- Opportunities for reflection and exploration.
- Support, development and constructive challenge.
- An appreciation of the importance of context.
- A focus on sustainable implementation leading to positive impact.
- The chance to collaborate in a collegiate environment.
